BLACK COFFEE PROMISING

WINS HIS RACE LIKE A REAL STAYER AND A CREDIT TO SAIN.

Murphy Also Wins Like a Good One—Few Sprints at Bowie—Meeting Closes Today and Owners Are Departing.

Baltimore, Md., November 29.—Frank E. Brown's Sain colt Black Coffee showed that he is a stayer and, consequently, a good prospect for next year, when he beat a band of the best youngsters racing at Bowie this afternoon in the Brookdale Handicap, a dash of seven-eighths for two-year-olds. Black Coffee was ridden by Johnny McTaggart, came from behind and, after working his way up on the outside, closed up with a rush and was going away at the finish. Behind the winner were Candle, Sprint and Broomale.

Only one of the races this afternoon was at a shorter distance than seven-eighths and three of them were at a mile or over. The fields were well balanced and what they lacked in quality was made up in quantity. In spite of cold, raw weather, a large crowd was present and speculation was brisk. In the Hopeful purse the top weight, Murphy, made a runaway affair of the race, setting a fast pace and withstanding threatening opposition from Queen of Paradise on the stretch turn.

W. T. Anderson was a visitor here today. He came up from Virginia, where he shipped the best of his horses to be wintered at Capt. F. M. Walker's farm at Bowie. He sent seven horses to Juarez in charge of F. E. Baird, who will race them for him on the Mexican track.

R. E. Watkins has purchased Norus from E. U. Terback and will campaign him at New Orleans. The W. R. Mizell horses were scratched today on account of the death of Mr. Mizell's sister.

Richard F. Carman has decided to campaign his string at New Orleans. The plater Videt was gelded Saturday.

E. J. Albright's filly Maid of Dundee died recently, while Favour, in the same stable, has been sick since her last good race. Last winter society in soliciting horsemen to ship to that far-western track.

Before the races today the following horses were sold in the paddock. Babe, to J. F. Sweeney, $100; Bamboo, to William Walker, $250; Anxiety, to J. Barrell, $350; Star Bird, to E. Uterback, $250; Miss Cavanaugh, to L. W. Riddle, $220; Ada Anne, to James Arthur, $375; and Cogs to G. A. Alexander, $100.

M. R. Jackson, of Media Pa., today purchased Conquistador from John Powers, and he will be hunted this winter.

G. Lomas, an apprentice rider under contract to James Arthur, arrived from his home in Canada today and will accompany the stable to Havana. Lomas has just recovered from the effects of a broken leg received in a fall in Canada.

Jockey T. Nolan arrived today and will go to Havana, where he will ride cards and work for Laurel to the races today. They have a small string at Laurel, where Allen has the jumpers Sentiment, Derbyshire, Gainsborough and two hunters, and Karrik has his two-year-old Handful.

A big majority of the horses racing here will be shipped to Cuba, seventeen carloads being booked for the Havana course. Most of the others will go to New Orleans. H. D. Brown will be here tomorrow to superintend the big shipment that is booked to leave here for Cuba.

HAVANA SOCIETY MUCH INTERESTED.

Havana, Cuba, November 29.—This early the local people are beginning to evince a lot of interest in the winter meeting at Oriental Park, and that it will be a big thing in a social way is plain to be seen by the fact that many of the most prominent people in society in Havana have already put in their bids for the winter season. Last winter society took to the racing in a way which prompted Mr. Brown to make special provisions for the social element and, according to present indications, most of the big social functions of Havana during the coming winter will be held at the clubhouse at the race track.

That the Kentucky horses which are now here will have a big edge on the eastern horses in the way of being acclimated is an assured fact and this early the thoroughbreds from the blue grass state have reeled off better time in their works than their owners expected. When H. D. Brown, general manager at Oriental Park, had the track resold during the summer he did not figure it as a fast as it is and he is the most surprised man of all the way the horses are working. Thus far this fall there has been little rain, just enough falling to serve to settle the track.

That there will be plenty of jockeys here this winter, and good ones at that, is evidenced by the reports received from many who rode in the Kentucky and winter there were plenty of riders here, but this year the list will be increased by at least twenty. Included among the riders who will pilot horses here are the two McTaggart boys, Tommy and Johnny, both recognized as leading riders, and this will be their first ride here in King Lapaille, of Louisville, who will ride the most promising apprentice riders in the sport today, and a boy who rode many winners on the Kentucky circuit. The climate here is just right for a boy who has difficulty in keeping down to weight, and jockeys who have trouble in doing 108 pounds in the United States have no trouble riding here at 102 pounds.

TWO FACTIONS SEEK DORVAL CONTROL.

Montreal, Que., November 29.—It has developed within the past few days that there are now two factions among the Dorval racing men. One syndicate is headed by Fred Richard and includes in its number Victor Lemay, Alderman Bastien, and one or two other well-known local horsemen. The other syndicate is headed by Ernest R. Decarie and includes Major John DeBride, as well as a number of the friends of E. R. Decarie and also the present president, J. T. R. Laurendeau. Ernest Decarie has already made an offer for control of the club, while the others have also put in their bid. Which faction will secure control remains with those who have control of the stock.

Several of last season's directors are on bonds for the club's indebtedness, and whichever syndicate takes over the club will have to assume these liabilities. Both are willing to do so, and it is more than likely that the tangle will be straightened out by the early part of next week. The constitution of the club calls for the holding of the annual meeting early in February, and it is hardly likely that a new board of directors will be chosen before that date.

Fred Richard and Victor Lemay were the organizers of the Montreal Driving Club, and for a number of years operated the plant at Delorimier Park, which three seasons ago passed into other hands. Victor Lemay and Fred Richard were the most interested. The purses were paid off as soon as the interest. The purses possession of the club. Dates will be asked on the Canadian circuit from the Canadian Racing Associations.

WHEATCROFT'S NUMEROUS INDUSTRIES.

[By Ed Cole.]

New York, November 29.—When Irving H. Wheatcroft went into the horse business he did not do things by halves. It is only a few years ago that he took a fancy to the thoroughbred, but since engaging in breeding he has sent horses of his own raising to almost every country where racing exists. At the present writing he still owns more than one hundred and fifty head on his three farms, the St. James Studs in British Columbia and Australia and the Swallow Stud in England. Mr. Wheatcroft was the first American breeder to send horses to Australia. His initial consignment to that country went from Kentucky to Vancouver by special train and from Vancouver to Sydney on the specially chartered steamship Kish. In the consignment were 159 head, of which he sold more than 100. At the present time he has fifty mares and stallions on his Australian farm, including Cesarion. As companions Cesarion has the two English-bred sires Flying Machine and Pteropus.

Mr. Wheatcroft does not race many horses, preferring to pay decided attention to breeding and bringing blood lines together that, in his opinion, will produce the best results. That he has been successful is demonstrated by the magnitude of his establishments and the broad expanse of his dealings. Even far off Brazil boasts of horses bred by Mr. Wheatcroft. He is a great believer in blood variety and a mixture of strains. One of the colts he has brought here is by William the Third, for whose services to Miss Snooks he paid $2,080. Miss Snooks is the dam of Snooky, a prominent sire in Germany and is closely related to Frusquin, a high-class winner in Russia. These facts are mentioned to show the efforts of Mr. Wheatcroft to gather up the best blood lines obtainable. Horse breeding has been entered into as a pleasure, rather than adopted for commercial reasons, by the owner of the St. James Stud. He is far from being dependent upon horse breeding for an income, being president of four banks in Oklahoma. He also owns a railroad in Kentucky, is president of the Wheatcroft Coal and Mining Co., and the town of Wheatcroft in Kentucky is named after him.

CURRENT NOTES OF THE TURF.

W. W. Darden has worked an Ivan the Terrible yearling filly an eighth in :11, going to the quarter in :23, with 125 pounds up.

The broodmares Esperio, Sham and Jacqueminot, purchased at the Elmendorf Stud and Clay Brothers' dispersal sale by Robert S. Strader, for Willis Sharp Kilmer, were shipped to Blounton, N. Y., in charge of Johnny Miller. Esperio is in foal to Transvaal and the other two to Sain.

Horses that have been showing good work at Juarez include Conning Tower, Iron Mask, Othello, Maznik, Wilhite, Strathearn, Seneca and Mercurium. Those that have been showing fairly well include Orimar Lad, Grapshot, Boy Johnson, John Graham, Mud Sill, Miss Fielder, Mandadoro and Russ Sand.

A special dispatch of last Saturday to the New York Sun from Paris says: "Charles Carroll of Carrollton, and Clarence H. Mackay have shipped to England for the sailing of the steamship Minnehaha thirteen yearlings, especially trained at Chantilly, to be sold by the firm of Powers & Hunter of New York on December 23. Four of Harry Payne Whitney's yearlings went with the shipment, but they are not for sale. Mr. Carroll told the correspondent of The Sun that he considered his and Mr. Mackay's yearlings, which came from fashionable sires in France, would bring $5,000 apiece at Tattersall's in London in peace time. A recent decree of the Minister of Agriculture permits the exportation of yearlings, heretofore forbidden. The sale of Gaston Dreyfus' horses today was not successful, as they brought low prices."

ANSWERS TO QUERIES.

A. M. F., Chicago. Local layers do not pay on a field horse unless it runs to the place for which it is backed.

J. A. D., Detroit, Mich. Royal Message is probably in the stud. George may appear in Juarez racing presently.

Paul S., Detroit, Mich. A wager of $10 straight and $10 place on Edith W. in her dead-heat race at Juarez would have called for a return of $24.

Louis, Ha. San Francisco, Cal. Of a new and raw track, such as that at Bowie, some parts of the course settle and pack more quickly than other sections, with the result that such variations in speed at various distances, as you refer to, are practically inevitable.

MANAGER ED KANE RECOVERING HEALTH.

Lexington, Ky., November 29.—Ed Kane, manager of August Belmont's Nursery Stud near this city, reached his home today from the Lakeside Hospital at Cleveland, where he has been ill for several months. He expects to be out again soon. Cliff Hammon, who has been in Europe buying thoroughbreds for E. R. Bradley, reached here today.
